NEW QUESTION: 1

In considering the payback period for three projects, Fly Corp. gathered the following data about cash flows:

Which of the projects will achieve payback within three years?

- A. Project B only.
- B. Projects B and C.
- C. Projects A, B, and C.
- D. Projects A and C.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Choice "b" is correct. Projects B and C achieve payback in three years. The payback period for Project A is somewhere between the end of Year 4 and Year 5. For all three projects, Year 1 appears to be a combination of cash outflows (initial cost) and cash inflows (return of investment), but it really does not make any difference. When the cumulative cash flow (both inflow and outflow) is zero, the project has paid back.

Choice "a" is incorrect. Project A does not pay back within 3 years even though Projects B and C do.

Choice "c" is incorrect. Projects B and C, not just Project B, pay back within 3 years.

Choice "d" is incorrect. Project A does not pay back within 3 years even though Project C does.
