NEW QUESTION: 4

Your company has a network that has an Active Directory domain. The domain has two servers named DC1 and DC2.

You plan to collect events from DC2 and transfer them to DC1. You configure the required subscriptions by selecting the Normal option for the Event delivery optimization setting and by using the HTTP protocol.

You discover that none of the subscriptions work.

You need to ensure that the servers support the event collectors.

Which three actions should you perform? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose three.)

- A. Add the DC2 account to the Administrators group on DC1.
- B. Run the wecutil qc command on DC2.
- C. Run the winrm quickconfig command on DC1.
- D. Run the winrm quickconfig command on DC2.
- E. Add the DC1 account to the Administrators group on DC2.
- F. Run the wecutil qc command on DC1.

Answer: D,E,F

Explanation:

To collect events on DC1, we need to run wecutil qc.

To collect events from DC2, we need to run winrm quickconfig

The question does not specify that only certain logs are being forwarded, so it is implied that all are going to be forward. Therefore, in order for DC1 to read Security events, it needs to be an administrator on DC2.

To configure computers in a domain to forward and collect events

1. Log on to all collector and source computers. It is a best practice to use a domain account with administrative privileges.

2. On each source computer, type the following at an elevated command prompt:

winrm quickconfig

Note

If you intend to specify an event delivery optimization of Minimize Bandwidth or Minimize Latency, then you must also run the above command on the collector computer.

3. On the collector computer, type the following at an elevated command prompt:

```
wecutil qc

4. Add the computer account of the collector computer to the local Administrators group on each of the source computers.
